New York Man Was Nominated On the Third Ballot by a Most Decisive Vote, the Favorite Sons Having Released Their Delegates After the Second Ballot

ROOSEVELT WAS NOT OPPOSED IN HIS PARTY

All Efforts to Reach a Compromise Failed, the Name of Lodge Having Been Coldly Received by the Republicans as Well as Progressives

Coliseum, Chicago, June 10 .- Justice Charles Evans Hughes of the United States supreme court was to-day nominated by the Republicans as candidate for the president of the United States. The vote was: Hughes 9471/2, Roosevelt 18, Lodge 7, DuPont 5, LaFollette 3, Weeks 3.

At the same time the Progressives nominated Theodore Roosevelt by acclamation.

At the very moment when it was flashed to the Progressive convention that Hughes had been nominated by the Republicans at the Coliseum, Chairman Robins was announcing that Roosevelt had been nominated. The Progressives recessed until 3.

Chicago, June 10 .- A report that the Republican delegates instructed for various favorite son candidates would break to Hughes when the balloting began today after the two indecisive ballots yesterday was generally credited. It was said that the Illnois delegation, which had been instructed for Senator Sherman, would go over in a body.

Senator Weeks of Massachusetts soon followed with the announcement that he released his delegates. On the first ballot yesterday Weeks had 105 votes. A large part of the Massachusetts delegation insisted they would stay with Weeks until the end, but it was understood that his supporters from other states would be generally for Hughes. Fairbanks supporters also gave indications of not pressing their fight further, and the Hughes Hughes Jumped from 2531/2 to 3281/2 pected more additions to their column from Indiana and other states.

HELD CONFERENCE IN BARRE.

Department Here.

Officials of the passenger department of the Central Vermont railway held their summer conference in Barre last evening and went to the quarries this morning as the guests of J. M. Boutwell of Boutwell, Milne & Varnum and D. M.

Barclay of Barclay Bros. The officials left for St. Albans at 11:50 o'clock, after a profitable visit in the granite city.
A desire on the part of the passenger agents to get better acquainted with the granite industry in Barre and Barre Town and the city's improved hotel fa cilities is said to have prompted the decision to hold the summer conference here. Last evening at Hotel Barre, where the railroad men were registered during their stay in the city, a conference on summer fares was held, with the following men participating: J. W. Hanley of St. Albans, general passenger agent; A. The-rien of Holyoke, Mass.; M. Alexie of Montreal, P. Q.; W. R. Eastman of St. Albans, chief clerk; H. R. Boyce of St. Albans, E. H. Boynton of Boston, A. M. Eccleston of New York, W. J. Grant of Boston and A. C. Wentworth of Springfield. Annually, the men of the passenger department get together to discuss speaker of EVENING, stated the conference was held in Barre

The railroad men had nothing but praise for the lodging accommodations and cuisine at Hotel Barre, and predictions were made that the tourist business in Barre, especially with reference to mo torists, will greatly increase. A number of the delegation members paid their first visit to the quarries this morning, when two large autos were provided for their transportation. The idea of a trip to Millstone hill was a happy afterthought of Station Master J. H. L. Carr, as the gathering in the city was primarily for the purpose of conferring on fares. Needless to say, all felt amply repaid for the time spent in going from quarry to quar-ry on the hill with representatives of the quarrying concerns along with them to explain the magnitude of the industry,

AGED LADY HONORED.

Mrs. Jane Stewart of Central Street Was 87 Years Old.

Mrs. Jane Stewart's 87th birthday was ery graciously remembered by many of her friends yesterday, and at her home, 13 Central street, the venerable woman had the pleasure of greeting a number of acquaintances who called to congratulate her on attaining such a ripe old age. The years have been kind to Mrs. Stewart and time's lines are not written so heavily on her features that she cannot wear a smile which the cares of a workaday world cannot erase. She is in excellent health and quite as active as many people a score of years her junior.

Twice each Sunday Mrs. Stewart attends worship at the First Presbyterian church and counts that Sabbath lost when unpropitious weather prevents her from participating in the services. She is a regular attendant at the midweek prayer meeting and is deeply interested in the affairs of the church.

Mrs. Stewart is a native of Dalbeattle, Scotland, and while she had something of the Covenanter in her makeup, her views on live topics of the day are liberal. In other days she was a devotee of the specches, which presented Justice Hughes, ment of the national committee in Janu-dance, but the spritely reels and minuets Elihu Root, former Senator Burton. "I am proud to acknowledge that I have never taught my classes anything usual." The cryptia meaning of the statement becomes apexcept, when one reflects that Professor Lowell rejoiced that his classes could be turned to better account than the mere inputing of knowledge that could be translated into money.
